TRANSFORCE PROMOTES JOHN COLUNI TO VICE PRESIDENT of BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT

We are pleased to announce the promotion of John Coluni to Vice President of Business Development effective July 1st, 2008. Since joining TransForce in early 2001 John has served in a number of Operations, Sales, and National Account Management roles all of which have made John well qualified for and deserving of this promotion.

“Throughout the past year I have had the opportunity to work closely with John on various sales related and strategic initiatives and in the process I have become increasingly impressed with his knowledge of our business, quality and network of contacts, and overall relationship with our field management and sales teams,” said Larry Parrotte, TransForce’s COO.

In addition to serving as the primary point of contact for several of our largest National Accounts, John will work closely with Joe Dolan, Vice President of Operations as we continue to aggressively drive organic growth within our existing National Branch Office network and as we expand into new strategic markets through acquisitions and in support of existing client needs.
